Burnout In South Branch Twp.

At 1 a.m. Wednesday morning October 21st the Jeff Nelsons of South Branch Township were awakened by a fire in their mobile home, and altho the South Branch Township Volunteer Fire Department responded promptly, it was a burnout. The Nelsons with their two young sons, aged 1 and 3, escaped unharmed.

The home was a total loss, but within 10 hours Crawford County Chapter/American Red Cross was on the job and inasmuch as they were not covered by insurance and had lost all their possessions, presented them with orders for a complete set of clothing, shoes, etc., for themselves and their two sons and a weeks allowance of food for one week for a family of four.

Gifts from the Good Neighbors of Crawford County who support Red Cross financially and make it possible to render this kind of humanitarian relief to the victims of Disaster.

Red Cross is just ending its annual October Fund Drive, and the final count is uncertain. If contributions don't reach our $6000 goal this disaster relief, a service that Red Cross and only Red Cross renders the American people can be endangered.

If you haven't sent in your contribution yet, please do so, now, and make sure no Crawford County family will go unprotected from this kind of disaster.

Okays Dec. 10 Election School Board Approves Millage Request

The Crawford AuSable School Board approved a request by the New Alliance for Education to hold a special election December 10 to seek 3.75 mills to reopen the Frederic Elementary School, return 20 teachers to classrooms, and restore other cuts into education programs made this year.

The New Alliance group presented the board with more than 800 signatures on petitions calling for another millage election to reassemble the school system for the remainder of this school year.

Superintendent William Dierich estimated programs that would be funded by this millage vote could be restored after Christmas in the two elementary schools and by the January 15 semester break in the middle and high school.

Among the services that would be restored by the additional millage is the reopening of the Frederic Elementary School, bringing back 20 teachers to reduce class sizes and reinstate curriculum offerings to previous levels, reinstating full library services, restoring vocational education, bringing back high school counseling and elementary physical and music education, and re-establishing textbook purchases, teaching supplies, audio-visual services, and health services. All of these services were in the Proposal 1 package in the August 31 election.

Also lumped in the new 3.75 request is .2 mills for sports the rest of the year, 1.5 for extra-curricular programs, and .27 to restore hours of secretaries, teacher aides, and maintenance personnel to previous levels. If the Grayling Booster Club wishes to continue funding sports for the rest of the year, the school board will not levy the .2 mills for sports.

The board voted 5-1 to place the 3.75 millage request for one year on the ballot December 10. Roger Moshier voted against the millage proposal saying he didn't think 800 persons was the overwhelming support the board was seeking before deciding to have another millage election.

Randy Thompson, a spokesman for the New Alliance for Education, said the 800-plus signatures were gathered in less than a week and half and possibly 2,000 to 3,000 homes weren't even reached.

Board President Kathleen Burkley said although she was reluctant to begin over after the last millage election, she was in support of another millage election because it offered a chance for nearly 2000 children to have an education they need and deserve.

"How can I sit here and vote No against something that is for the kids," Freddie Allen said.

Moshier also asked New Alliance members about persons who can't afford additional taxes this year.

Thompson said many of these people are eligible for a rebate on their taxes under the Homestead Act if their taxes exceed 3.5 percent of their incomes. Former school board member Duane Sloan said these people would continue to never be

Three in Race For Two Council Seats

Three candidates - William Dennis Sloan, Doris Harland, and Gordon "Sandy" Thompson - are on the ballot for two four-year Grayling City Council seats. The city election will be held Tuesday, November 3. The four-year terms of councilmen Horace Failing and Thompson are expiring. Failing has chosen not to seek re-election. The following are short profiles of the three candidates.

William Dennis Sloan—Born and raised in the Grayling area, Sloan, 25, has been employed by the state of Michigan at Camp Grayling for the last seven years. He is also a member of the Michigan National Guard and a member of the Grayling Fire Department.

"I would like to see the city continue to make improvements to the streets and continue to provide the services that are being provided now," Sloan said. "I also want to see the city operate in the black as it has been doing."

Doris Harland—A resident of Grayling 11 years, Harland is the mother of 9 children - three at home and the remaining six also live in Grayling. She has worked in the Crawford AuSable schools for the last two years and worked at the Village Shop for three years before that. She was graduated from St. Matthews High School in Flint and has been president of her church's altar society and a member of the choir and Holy Rosary.

"I like Grayling and would like to see it grow and prosper," Harland said. "I'm going to continue to make Grayling my home and I want to be involved in helping it grow."

Gordon "Sandy" Thompson—A resident of Grayling all his life, Thompson has served on the Grayling City Council seven years and is currently the Mayor of Grayling. He is a former Crawford AuSable School Board member and an assistant sales manager for Bear Archery. He currently sells new homes, real estate, and insurance.

"I do know right from wrong and I'm in favor of progress and anything else to bring in more jobs to Grayling," Thompson said.

for American Red Cross

The third mandate of the U.S. Congress in its charter of the American Red Cross states that every effort shall be undertaken to "mitigate" human suffering resulting from natural or man-made disasters.

As you know, mitigate means to alleviate, to reduce, to ease, such human suffering, and American Red Cross in the early part of this Century interpreted this to mean they should teach people how to avoid being hurt, and how to take care of people who were injured until they could receive training medical care.

By the early 1920s American Red Cross was teaching First Aid procedures to citizens: How to stanch the flow of blood, how to bandage a wound, how to splint a broken limb, how to protect a victim in shock, etc. Red Cross had developed training manuals, charts, lecture texts, and had enlisted hundreds of Volunteers to become unpaid Instructors of such courses. A few years later Red Cross, recognizing the terrific loss of life in drowning accidents, added Water Safety Training to its activities: Teaching young people, particularly, how to swim and more advanced swimmers how to rescue drowning victims and resuscitate them. Again Red Cross enlisted thousands of Volunteers to become unpaid Instructors in Swimming and Water Life Saving.

Halloween Safety Reminder

Again this year, as in the past, the City of Grayling Police Dept. would like to bring this opportunity to bring attention on everyone's part that youngsters will be on the street for traditional trick - or - treating Sat. evening Oct. 31. The City of Grayling would like to recommend that trick-or-treating be done between the hours of 6:00 p.m.-8:00 p.m. People driving in the Grayling area are asked to be exceptionally observant for young goblins during this time also.

A friendly reminder to parents and young goblins participating in Halloween activities would be:

1. All treats should be taken home for inspection before they are eaten.
2. Masks or material obstructing vision should be removed when crossing or being in vehicle traffic areas.
3. Costumes should be non-flammable material light in color for visibility.
4. Flashlights should be carried after dark, parents should attempt to have their little goblins escorted, and confined to their own neighborhood.
5. Goblins should approach residents having porch lights or similar indications of welcome displays.
6. Parents being aware of suspicious items brought home by young people should question where they were obtained, and immediately notify the local law enforcement authorities.

County Tries Preventive Medicine To Help Children, Save Money

By Jon Thompson

The Crawford County Board of Commissioners invested $4,500 in preventive medicine last Thursday through the diversionary program of the Crawford County Youth Services Bureau.

The diversionary program - an alternative to the court system for local youths in trouble - was in danger of being cut without county support. With the county pledging $4,500 toward the program in 1982, the program is able to collect $4,500 in a state grant for this year's operating expenses.

Doug Wilson, director of Youth Services, said the diversion program handled 88 youths from ages 6 to 18 last year. The boys and girls had problems ranging from truancy to petty larceny, yet only four out of the 88 ended up in the courts after counseling by Youth Services. Wilson said many of the youths had improved grades in school and better attitudes at home after becoming involved with Youth Services.

Sheriff Joe White spoke out in favor of the program at the commissioners meeting Thursday, and Wilson also presented letters from the Crawford AuSable School District and the Probate Court indicating their support for the program.

With the $4,500 from the county and the $4,500 from the state grant, the program is funded to September, 1982. The diversionary program was set up for four years. Grants from the State of Michigan Office of Criminal Justice will fund the program for the first two and half years, the county has pledged support for half a year in 1982 ($4,500), but funding for the last year is uncertain.

The commissioners voted in favor of giving $4,500 to the program and called it preventive medicine. They said not only would it help area youth but it would save the county money by keeping the youths out of the county courts.

In other county action at the regular county board of commissioners meeting last Thursday, the county's elected and appointed officials each received a $500 pay hike - about a three percent raise - for 1982. The eight officials receiving the raise were the county prosecuting attorney, the county clerk, county treasurer, zoning director and building inspector, equalization director, magistrate, sheriff, and undersheriff. Commissioners said the three percent raise was about the same as the rest of the courthouse employees received for 1982.

able to afford to pay their taxes unless we attract industry and more jobs by enhancing the community with a good strong school system.

The special election will cost the school district approximately $3,000 to $4,000 and it may cost the City of Grayling and townships in the district a total of $4,000 to $5,000 to mail a second tax notice if the request passes. Diedrich said the extra cost of the election has not been budgeted, and Moshier said if the millage is defeated, the cost of the special election will make it even harder for the district to balance its books.

responded to a call at 2:25 a.m. Tuesday, the house was totally engulfed in flames. The two fire departments knocked out the fire quickly but the building still was a total loss.

In other sheriff department news, two deputies, Art Clough and William Heemer, finished a special traffic investigation course offered by Kirtland Community College. The course trains police officers in reconstructing the scene of accidents.

Five deputies recently completed a class in forensics taught by the Michigan State Police at their crime lab in Grayling. Paul Smith, Jim Parker, George Anthony, Heemer, and Lovely all completed the class, and now, all but one of the Crawford County Sheriff deputies have completed the special training.

From Our Corner ...

Seems like some one is always looking out for the ol' fella...take for instance...last Saturday we stopped at the post office to pick up the mail, and would you believe that we received a genuine canned Florida Sunshine...it came at an opportune time if one remembers how white the ground was last Saturday...along with the canned sunshine we received a post card with appropriate sayings about sunny Florida and our freezing north country...we appreciate the jestures from Lew and Dorothy Stillwagon...on the can they had pasted a part of our column where we complained about not seeing the sun for so long...

While on the topic of sunny Florida, we were happy to have run into Chuck Bonamie last week...Chuck was up here in the cold to try his luck on taking some northern Michigan's venison back to Gainesville...ol' Chuck hasn't changed a bit, as much full of it as ever...

Do you want to help the Booster Club Athletic Fund? You will have the chance this Saturday, October 31st...and this is no Halloween prank...the River Valley Foodland will donate 5 cents of every dollar they take in that day to the athletic fund...all you have to do is shop Foodland where there will be bunches of savings on specials...and at the same time be helping the Booster Fund...

From the Las Vegas Sun...You know your in trouble when...you have ANTIQUE furniture and you bought it when it was MODERN...

An idle thought...we have been sitting here thinking about what is in store for us this winter and how soon will it arrive...and all the time we have somewhat of a barometer right here in the office...all we have to do is look at our subscription list and tell how many of our readers have already headed to the south and west, with that and the geese we know that we should start looking forward to ol' man winter...

We have our own, know when your in trouble...that is when your drivers license and car tabs are due and you forget both...

Of late we have been complaining on our weather during September and October to no avail...we must say here for all our non-residents...Monday was one of the most perfect days we have had since summer...maybe the man upstairs will smile on us for a few weeks before he showers us with that white fluffy stuff, called snow and cold...we're going to save that can of Florida sunshine for another day...

We heard today that a dear friend of many moons back has been on the ill list...and will not be here for the annual EMTA conference at the Holiday Inn this Wednesday and Thursday...we refer to Wayne Clark who is retired at his home near Gladwin and we know many people here in Grayling will remember him for all the promotion he did for Grayling...taking pictures and making sure they got distributed throughout Michigan...for many years he was Grayling's PR man...Wayne gets the Avalanche so we will say here we wish you well, and think of you often Wayne...

Time to give up the ghosts and goblins for this week...this turkey has to get ready for Halloween, so we will say goodnight to T.J., Stef and Amber, and to all of our readers have a scary Halloween weekend, but a nice one...

JUSTIFICATION EXPLAINED

Romans 3:24

Last week we saw man's universal need of salvation from God because all men are declared of God to be condemned sinners. Justification is God doing for man that which man is incapable of doing for himself. Justification is God applying the death, burial and resurrection of Jesus Christ to each of us to remove our sin problem. Justification is also God applying the righteous life of Jesus Christ to our account so God can declare us righteous. Justification is God applying the substitutionary work of His Son to satisfy our spiritual needs.

"Being justified freely" by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus." Romans 3:24.

1. Justification is free. Man can pay no price for justification. God has provided free justification. While it is free, it is not cheap. It cost God the life, death, burial and resurrection of His only begotten Son. This was the highest price ever paid for anything in the history of the universe. For man to think he can pay one penny or do one good work to become justified, is to show total disrespect for the finished work of Jesus Christ. To say you must do anything to be justified, you take away from the finished work of Jesus Christ.

2. Justification is by God's Grace. This means God's unmerited favor. This is God giving to man that which he does not deserve. It is giving to man that which he did not earn. It is God going all the way to provide salvation, and man doing absolutely nothing to earn it.

3. Justification is redemption through Christ Jesus. Redemption is an old Greek word which originated to describe slaves purchased from the slave market with the intention of setting them free. This is how Christ redeemed us. We were dead in trespasses and sins when Christ stepped down from Heaven and paid the price of our redemption. He willingly lived a perfect life to declare us righteous. He willingly died as our substitute to pay our sin debt and then rose again so you and I can have eternal life. What a wonderful Savior! What wonderful Justification! (adv.)

HELPFUL IDEAS FOR SUCCESSFUL RETIREMENT

YOUR WILL

If you feel smug about the fact that you have finally made your will (or have updated it), pause for a moment. You probably failed to tie up all the loose ends.

Does your will contain a list of ALL your personal property? Is there a safe deposit box somewhere? A savings or checking account that is known only to you? Do you have stocks and bonds stashed away in some hiding place?

While your will may be quite adequate to spell out your wishes, it may need to be supplemented with a letter of last instruction. If they are not together, this letter should give the location of your will, the name and address of your estate executor and family religious leader, location of safe deposit boxes and keys, bank accounts, father's name and mother's maiden name (for the death certicate), personal property, proof of ownership of cars, etc.

Chances are your executor will not be familiar with all the people with whom you do business. List them all—including physician, attorney, insurance agent, accountant, employer(s). List the names of the people to whom you owe money, amount owed, and any monies due you from whatever sources.

You can be more specific in a letter of last instruction in regard to funeral and burial instructions, names and addresses of those you wish to be notified, any prearrangements you may have made. The letter will help assure that everything is done the way you want it to be done.

The letter of last instruction is not a legal document. It does not replace a will; it supplements it, providing helpful guidance to those who must see that your wishes are fulfilled.

Beginning April 1, 1982, a new Michigan law requires you to place children under four years of age in restraint devices when transporting them in a motor vehicle. As an alternative, a child over one year of age may be secured in the back seat with a seat belt.

A restraint device is a padded seat or infant carrier specially designed to provide a child under four years of age maximum protection in an accident.

Restraint devices can be purchased at most major department stores for $35 to $50 or can be rented for as little as pennies a day from hospitals and private organizations with rental programs. In some instances, insurance companies furnish restraint devices at little or no cost as part of their coverage plans. Restraint devices also can be purchased second hand from private owners.

Secretary of State Richard H. Austin, Chairman of the State Safety Commission, encourages all parents and guardians who have children under four years of age to obtain the required restraint devices before April 1, 1982.

A speeding automobile ran over one of Farmer Brown's hogs. "Don't worry," said the driver of the car, "I'll replace your hog." "You can't," said Farmer Brown. "You're not fat enough."

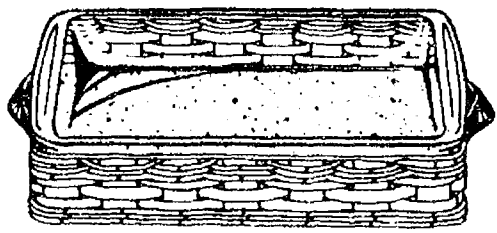

Public Budget Hearing

There will be a hearing on the Crawford County Budget for 1982 on Wednesday, November 4, 1981 starting at 7:30 p.m. in the Crawford County Building.

Copies of the proposed budget will be available at the County Clerk's Office for inspection.

Refund Program Underway to Aid Libraries

MONEY FOR LIBRARIES—Debbie Hoyt, of Grayling, displays several of the wrappers and packages that can be refunded to bring in money for Crawford AuSable School libraries. Hoyt, an expert refunder, has volunteered her services to help raise money for the libraries. She says practically any food or household product package is worth money in refunds. Crawford County residents can help raise money for school libraries by dropping off their packages, wrapper, and labels at Glen's Market and A & P. (Jon Thompson Photo)

The Committee Hoping for Interim Library Dollars (C.H.I.L.D.) is starting a package refund program to raise money to hire qualified persons to work in the Crawford AuSable libraries during the current budget crunch.

C.H.I.L.D. - which kicked off its fund raising with a silent auction that netted $300 - urges community members to drop off packages, wrappers, labels, and any food or product container at Glen's Market and A & P. Volunteers, led by Debbie Hoyt, of Grayling, will sort out the packages and carry through the complicated refund procedures.

Hoyt, who's been refunding for four years, said she makes about $150 a month refunding. It took her two years to learn the ropes of advertising, trading, finding refund forms, and other refund techniques. Now she trades with people throughout the United States and she attends refunders' conventions.

Debbie, and other volunteers from C.H.I.L.D., will be donating their time to collect packages and acquire refunds. Approximately 25 packages, labels, or wrappers can be worth $1. A large garbage bag could hold up to $4 of refundable packages. Interested persons can call Debbie at 348-2479 for more information.

Moose News

We the officers of Grayling Moose Lodge 1162, would like to say how much we appreciated all of our members who attended the September district meeting held in our lodge. We are also very grateful to all the women who brought dishes to pass, and helped prepare the very fine luncheon that was served after the meeting.

This month our district meeting was held in Manacelona, and our lodge was represented with 23 people, which helped us bring the traveling plaque back to Grayling. Our next district meeting is on November 14 at 8 p.m. in Manistee. So let's see if we can keep the plaque in Grayling.

As for our regular membership meetings, we are not getting very much participation at them. The meetings are still held the 1st and 3rd Wednesday of the month. At our next meeting we will be discussing our annual Kids' Christmas Party, so we would like to see a nice turnout. The meeting is Wed., Nov. 4, at 8 p.m.

We also have quite a few members on our delinquent list, so please check your cards to see if your dues are up to date. In the past couple of years our membership has fallen off some, but we are sure if you the members would just start talking Moose to some of your friends and relatives that our membership would get back to where it belongs.

We also would like to say how grateful the officers are to all the members who have helped in making the first 6 months of this administration successful.

For many years a requirement to become a Life Guard at a swimming pool or beach is possession of an American Red Cross Certificate in Life Saving & Water Safety.

For over 50 years American Red Cross First Aid Training materials: Charts, Text Books, Film Strips, Movies, etc., have been the tools for every First Aid training in industry, public schools, universities and hospitals. The extent of such First Aid training at the national level is startling.

In the 1980 fiscal year 400,169 Volunteer Instructors conducted 579,259 First Aid, CPR and Water Safety courses from which 5,417,255 Americans - young and adult - graduated successfully and were awarded Certificates in proof thereof.

In that same year 479 individuals were awarded Certificates of Merit after intensive and thorough examination and certification of each case established that the receiver had saved the life of a fellow human through application of the Life Saving Training he had received from American Red Cross. A prestigious award never lightly given.

In the last ten years over 40,000,000 Americans had acquired Certificates of successful completion of Red Cross Safety courses, about one in every five.

Our own Chapter's statistics for the year ending June 30, 1981 are equally impressive:

Twelve First Aid and CPR Instructors held 43 courses in which 456 trainees qualified and were awarded certificates. These 12 Instructors spent 399 hours for an average of 33 Volunteer hours per Instructor.

Seventeen Swimming Courses were held and 135 students were awarded Certificates ranging from "Beginners" to "Advanced Swimmers". Since June 30, 1981, an additional 19 swimming courses have been completed and another 128 young people have received Certificates of qualification in their class.

Nursing & Health Training is another major Service of American Red Cross. In the year ending June 30, 1981, 28,903 Volunteer Nurse Instructors taught 25,260 courses in: Home Nursing, Preparation for Parenthood, Parenting, Providing Health Services in Disaster, Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation, Mother's Aide, Good Grooming, Home Health Aide, Multiple Sclerosis - Home Care and 468,233 trainees qualified and were awarded Certificates. And the CPR training listed here is in addition to the CPR training included in the Safety training statistics above. The 52,334 CPR trainees accomplished by the Nurse & Health Services are over and above the Safety trainees.

In the fiscal year 1981 ended June 30, 1981, American Red Cross expenditures exclusive of the Blood Service Program were:

Service	Millions	% Total
Military Families & Veterans	$55.6	26.0
Disaster Relief	57.6	27.0
Nursing & Health	9.3	4.4
First Aid, CPR & Water Safety	22.6	11.0
Youth	6.7	3.5
Community & Volunteers	21.0	10.0
International	2.2	1.1
Membership & Fund Raising	8.3	3.8
Management & General	30.5	13.2
Total	213.8	100.0

The American people contributed $204,434,000 to American Red Cross last year including all the 3200 Chapters in the U.S. That was $9,390,000 less than the $213,824,000 expended by Red Cross in providing the specific vital humanitarian Services that Red Cross, and Red Cross alone, renders the American people.

This shortfall had to come out of reserves which are borderline thin.

To those of you who have read this far, our deep and sincere thanks.

The purpose of these articles in The Avalanche has been to try to tell the people of Crawford County what American Red Cross does and how it has to get the money to support the 18,363 paid staff members and the 1,418,267 unpaid Volunteers as of June 30, 1981.

That is a ratio of 77 Volunteers for every paid staff, which is why American Red Cross proudly acknowledges that over 90% of Red Cross work is performed by unpaid Volunteers, a figure not equaled by any other Service or Charity organization!

In the first article of this series we pointed out that U.S. Congress mandates the American Red Cross to raise the money required to accomplish its Congressionally Chartered responsibilities from the American people - that no Federal, State or Local tax funds are to be provided.

We also pointed out that such funds are raised by local Chapters who share their contributions with the National organization, and that it roughly takes 25% of local contributions to meet National's budget, the remaining contributions being retained by the Chapters to perform Red Cross Services at the local level.

The figures given for American Red Cross operations in this series, are national, and taken from the Annual American Red Cross Report which combines all the Chapter reports with National statistics, for one combined record of all United States Red Cross operations.

We challenged you to read this series of articles about Red Cross and their vital humanitarian Services if you were not supporting Red Cross financially, because we are convinced that every individual who understands what Red Cross really does, cannot help but believe it deserves their financial support.

The only way we will ever know to what degree, if any, we were right, will be by the new contributions we receive from people who have not previously supported Crawford County Chapter/ American Red Cross.

This is the last plea for your contribution in this October 1981 Red Cross Fund Drive.

If we have convinced you that Red Cross does deserve your support, will you please send a check to American Red Cross, RR 2, Box 2515, Grayling 49738, for what you think is your fair share. If all you can afford is a $1, please send it, you will become a member of American Red Cross and join the Good Neighbors who support it!

If every family in Crawford County who has not supported Red Cross financially in the past sent just $1 it would add $2500 to put the October Fund Drive way over the top!

Please, Help us Keep Red Cross Ready for it's Second Century of Service to the American people!

Please, Help us do the job that the United States Congress mandates the American Red Cross to render the Citizens of this community.

Thank you on behalf of the American Red Cross Volunteers of Crawford County.

State Budget Subject of $270 Million Cut

Warren M. Hoyt, Executive Director, MPA

With less than a month gone in the state's new fiscal year, the Legislature will be asked to ax the budget by $270 million reflecting the continual downturn of the economy and loss of revenues to the state's general fund.

The new cut also comes only weeks after the past fiscal year's budget was balanced with an $80 million cut which hit education and local revenues hard.

The latest cut was increased by about $80 million with a late decision to change Medicaid accounting to maintain a respectable financial reputation of the state in the bonding markets.

Meanwhile, budget officials say they hope the cuts will not have to be increased further but they admit that recent dismal automobile sales figures provide little problems that the current revenue projections will hold true.

On another front, Governor William G. Milliken will take to the statewide television airways with a rare appearance to make the state's financial woes known to the public.

Upon cutting the current year budget by the proposed $270 million, the state's general fund spending will be only 5.3 percent over the 1980-81 spending level which, in turn, was 5 percent lower than 1979-80 spending.

Management and Budget Director Gerald Miller noted the cut will be the largest single such order in the state's history. The prior record was $124 million in 1974-75.

"If I had a magic wand, I would make it bigger because of continuing budget uncertainties," he said and added he would bring the general fund spending down to $4,775 million.

The largest cut in the preliminary order presented to legislators is $152 million from the Department of Social Services. This would be achieved largely through cutting monthly grant levels by at least 5 percent.

Other state departments would be cut an average of 8 percent for a $67 million savings; four-year colleges and universities would be cut 3 percent for a $20 million savings.

Grants to students in private colleges would be cut 6 percent for a including $4.1 million (3 percent) from community colleges, $13.2 million (2 percent) in revenue sharing funds to counties, cities, villages and townships and $15.1 million (4/10 of 1 percent) in K-12 schools.

Miller said the department cuts will mean "considerable" additional employee layoffs system-wide.

Officials hope that by acting early in the fiscal year, attrition can take care of part of the employee cut-backs.

Robert Kleine, director of the Office of Revenue and Tax Analysis, said continued high interest rates are continuing to depress the automobile industry. He added, however, he believed the University of Michigan forecast of a 9 million unit sales year as a little pessimistic.

He noted such a forecast would mean state revenues would be another $100 million lower than expected. He added his department is predicting sale of 9.5 to 10 million units.

Rettenmaier-Wahl Nuptials

Catherine Ann Wahl and Thomas Gerard Rettenmaier of Grayling were united in marriage on Saturday, August 22, 1981, during an eleven o'clock nuptial Mass at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Grayling, Michigan. The Rev. Fr. William Rabor officiated for the double ring ceremony. Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Delmer G. Stanley of Houghton Lake and the late Clayton C. Wahl, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Rettenmaier, 184 Easter Drive, Grayling. The bride and groom were presented in marriage by their parents.

The bride was gowned in white nylon crepe, featuring an empire bodice and sweetheart neckline trimmed with net and silk Venice lace. A Watteau train and finger-tip veil, trimmed with matching Venice lace, and abbreviated white morning gloves completed her ensemble. She carried a cascading bouquet of silk flowers.

Patricia J. Wahl of Houghton Lake, sister of the bride, was Maid of Honor. Bridesmaids were Elaine Sullivan of Prudenville and Donna Servas of Traverse City. All were gowned in floor-length seaming green Quiana, with empire bodices trimmed with silk Venice lace over net, and carried silk-flowered nosegays.

Thomas E. Sequin, Jr. of Bay City served as best man. Groomsmen were Timothy A. Wirsing, Auburn, and Denis J. Taylor, Richmond, Virginia, brother-in-law of the groom. Ushers were Eldred W. Russell, Waterman, Illinois, and Barry N. Bostedon of Big Rapids.

The groom was attired in a white cutaway tuxedo with tails. The groomsmen and other men of the wedding party were suited in silver-gray tuxedos with color-coordinated ruffles and silk boutonnieres.

The mothers of the bride and groom, respectively, selected seaming green Quiana and silver-gray polyester with complimentary corsages.

A dinner-reception was held at the Holiday Inn of Houghton Lake following the ceremony. Out-of-state guests attended from California, Illinois, Iowa, Ohio and Virginia.

The bride, a graduate of Michigan Technological University with a Bachelor's degree in Medical Technology, has been employed at Mercy Hospital, Grayling, for the past two years. The groom attended Saginaw Valley State College, served three years in the United States Marine Corps, and is currently attending Ferris State College. The couple will reside in Big Rapids.

"Thank You"

The A.B.W.A. would like to extend a "Thank You" to all of the Merchants and all people who contributed to, or helped in any way with their Fashion Show.

A special "Thanks" is owed to The Hair Station of Grayling. Sharon Brown and her staff were wonderful and donated hours of time the day before and day of the show to help our models look "just right". Sally Hartig, Chairman/Fashion Show

Vikings Lose Snowbowl 16-12

By Jon Thompson

The Grayling Vikings missed two extra point conversions and lost to Charlevoix 16-12 in a game of snowball last Friday.

The Vikings, playing in their Homecoming game, overcame five inches of snow on the field but couldn't outscore a bigger Charlevoix team.

Grayling passed a lot to take advantage of field conditions and scored both of their touchdowns through the air. Just before the first half ended Terry Norman threw a two-yard touchdown pass to his brother, wide receiver Jerry Norman. Late in the fourth quarter, Dan Lucksted grabbed a short pass, cut back against the grain, and romped 55 yards through the snow to score.

Although the passing game worked for two touchdowns, it let the Vikings down on two extra point attempts. Grayling failed on two passes for extra points while Charlevoix rushed for two touchdowns and both of their extra points.

Charlevoix had a big offensive line and big running backs. Grayling head coach Bill Klinger said the snow gave Grayling a slight advantage because Charlevoix couldn't get its running game into high gear.

Grayling gained more yards through the air than on the ground. The Vikings had 94 yards passing and 78 rushing. Charlevoix had 151 rushing and only 28 passing. Jim Hill led Grayling rushers with 34 yards in 10 attempts. Viking quarterback Norman - throwing often from the shotgun formation - connected for 94 yards and two touchdowns.

The Vikings had one last chance to pull the game out with 30 seconds left. Brian Yoder booted an onside kick that hit a Charlevoix player and was recovered by Ryan Morford. A last-ditch long pass by the Vikings was intercepted on Charlevoix's 10 yard line.

The Viking defense was led by Joel Money, Shawn Lindsay, Jack Money, Brad Trenary, Dan Lucksted, and Wayne Metzger. The green and white take on St. Ignace at home this Friday. Parents' Night will be celebrated at this last varsity home game.

BURYING AN OPPONENT—Burying an opponent was a little bit easier last Friday night for the Grayling Vikings as they had five inches of snow to help them. Jack Money (tackling the ball carrier) Joel Money (61) and Brad Trenary (34) combine to bury this Charlevoix Rayder. (Photo by Jon Thompson)

BURYING A VIKING—Viking quarterback Terry Norman draws a crowd as he tries a quarterback sneak with a minute to go in the second quarter against Charlevoix. Two plays later Terry threw a two-yard touchdown pass to Jerry Norman. (Photo by Jon Thompson)

Doodles From The Tall Timber

Wendell Hoover
Park Interpreter

Tonight I heard Geese headed South. Their cry brought to mind the refrain of a dimly remembered song which goes: "Tonight I heard the wild Goose cry, wingin' North in the lonely sky." Their call always touches me deeply, a reminder of wildness and freedom, but beyond that is the wonder of it all. What guides them in the glowering darkness over countless miles is not for me to know. Instinct? Changing weather? If I knew, I wouldn't be where I am at, but then would I still feel this sense of wonder at a wind-tossed cry from a dark sky? Probably not, but now I eagerly await the next call which will be from a North-bound flock bringing not only that sense of wonder but spring as well.

Economical Ideas For Halloween Treats

By Gail Edwards, Extension Home Economist

Halloween treats can be good for children, fun and economical, too. Decide how much money you have to spend on treats and how many youngsters you expect to come to your door, and then consider your options.

Small packages of nuts or raisins and candies that contain nuts or raisins, are both tasty and nutritious. So are single-serving packets of hot cocoa mix, dry cereals, dry soups, food bars and packets of vitamin C enriched fruit drink mixes. To determine how much it will cost to give these foods as treats, divide the cost of the box by the number of packets in the box. That way you can determine which treat fits your budget the best.

Apples that have been washed and rubbed until they shine and oranges are also attractive and nutritious treats.

If you live in an area where few trick-or-treaters come to your door and where you know the children, you might give out "Treat Coupons" for homemade goodies. Type or write out slips of paper saying: This coupon may be redeemed for (state treat) on (day and time) from (your name and address) so the parents of trick-or-treaters will know it is a legitimate coupon and will allow their children to redeem it).

Coupon treats can be fun for you and for the children who redeem them. Most children delight in the opportunity to talk with adults and can learn a little about what coupons are and how they work when they come for their treat. If you enjoy children, giving coupon treats will provide an opportunity for you to visit with them at your convenience, because you say when the coupon can be traded in for a treat.

You can also give out packages of shiny pennies. Decide how many cents you want to spend on each treat, wrap that many pennies in bits of plastic wrap. Small children will especially enjoy opening the plastic wrap and "counting" their treat.

If you give homemade treats, label each treat with a stick-on return address label. Most parents do not allow their children to eat homemade treats unless they know the person giving them out. Smart parents will also check commercially wrapped treats and fresh fruit treats to be sure they have not been tampered with. Only after careful inspection should children be allowed to eat any Halloween treat.

American Viewpoints

I feel the responsibility of the occasion. Responsibility is proportionate to opportunity.

Hi! I'm Chris Clover here with news from the Crawford County 4-H Clubs.

Calling all boys and girls interested in Physical Fitness. With no gym classes at school this club is promoting physical fitness. There is weight lifting for the older ones and exercises and games such as volleyball and basketball plus much more.

The Club meets Friday after school in the Elementary Multi-purpose room. Please bring clean tennis shoes and gym clothes to work out in. This group is off to a good start but there is room for more members. It's lots of fun and promotes good health for our 4-H'ers.

More weight lifting equipment is needed if anyone would be able to loan the club contact Bob Gingerich or the Office.

The Small Animals Club is busy building a incubator for the hatching of chicks. This club is very active with the raising of the animals. They meet after school and you can ride the school bus to the meeting with your parents permission.

The Arts and Crafts Club for boys and girls ages 6 to 12 is being organized with many interested projects. With snow in the air Christmas is just around the corner and gifts for family and friends to get made. This club will help you get many ideas for your gifts.

Teens 15 and up who are interested in the Forestry Careers such as park management, game department, foresters, jobbers, saw filers and tree plantations please contact the Office soon about this program.

Workshops being held at Kettunen Center for leaders and older teens plus people in the community interested in youth coming up in November are: 4-H Y.E.A. Facilitators Workshop the 6th and 7th of Nov. The Youth Experiencing Action promotes youth involvement in community development and community related projects. Teaching our youth to aid others in youth involvement in our community promotes good citizenship and leaders in the future for growth for all of us.

The second workshop is Nov. 20-23 and is the 4-H Annual Conference of Michigan Adult Horse Leaders. Both workshops need pre-registrations through the Office.

If anyone would like to join one or more of the many clubs call the 4-H Office at 348-5123 and let Ann know. See you next week with more news about the clubs and what's new in 4-H. See you!

Editor's Mailbox

Dear Whitey,
I had an incident with the D.N.R. Subject: Control Burn.

I would like to tell you about it.

Tuesday afternoon I was coming home to get some material for a job I was working on. I reached the top of the hill on Four Mile Rd., saw smoke, I thought Oh! No! Not again. The closer I got to my house the more smoke.

I reached 4 Mile & Staley Lake Road. There was the D.N.R. with a car across the road. The officer came to my truck. He asked where I was going, I said down the street I live there. He said I couldn't go down there. I asked if he or somebody warned my wife about the fire. No was his answer. I said I'm going down, he said I couldn't. I said you just watch me. I left for home with him in hot pursuit. I got home and told the wife about the fire. She was surprised.

The officer was yelling at me for breaking the law and was going to have me arrested. He did.

About 5 minutes later he returned with the deputy. The deputy said I was under arrest. I said I had to tell my wife what was happening, I went into my house. I told him to stay out. He said he had a warrant for my arrest and followed me in my house.

I told my wife what to do in case the fire got out of hand (which they have been known to do). As of this time I was a big time criminal. The deputy leans me up against the B&W, frisks me, and puts the cuffs on.

I got a fast trip downtown and put in the anti room and started to be booked.

Still at this time I really didn't know why all the frisking and cuffing - I was never told by the deputy for what reason I was under arrest.

I was not read any rights. While in the jail the charges were dropped. I was issued a citation for not stopping for a police officer.

So much for that. Now the reason for my concern:

In 1975 we lost our house in a fire. I came home from working and the wife was outside crying and didn't know what to do. In the summer of 1976 the woods across the road were on fire. The fire shifted and our house was saved. After the fire an officer said to me he thought my house was a goner.

Now when I see smoke near or around my house I get worried. All this could have been avoided very simply by one of two ways.

No. 1 - Leave the woods alone.

No. 2 - Let the people in the immediate area know what's going on.

Maybe next time they have a controlled burn they will let somebody know.

Larry Schoen

P.S. Be it ever so humble a man's home is his castle. He should have a right to protect it.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all my friends and family for the cards, flowers and phone calls I received while I was a patient at Oakwood Hospital and after I returned home.

Especially my family that gave me such tender loving care.

Thank You,

This year's fall musical at Kirtland Community College will be "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown", based on the comic strip "Peanuts", by Charles M. Schulz. It is considered good entertainment for the whole family.

The play is based on an average day in the life of Charlie Brown, proceeding from one season to the next and from utter despair to complete confidence in himself and others around him. He continuously looks for a reason for being and finds that, "Happiness is anyone and anything at all that's loved by you."

The production will be run by Kirtland's director Kevin Wurz; assistant director Tami Henderson from Higgins Lake; and Rick French, technical director from Roscommon. Heading the delightful cast of characters are: Mike Egan as Charlie Brown (from West Branch); Mark Benjamin (Rose City) as Snoopy; Nancy Prescott (Gladwin) playing Lucy; Tim Taylor (Grayling) as Linus; John Price (Roscommon) as Schroeder; and Laurie Thorp (Caro) playing Patty. Heading up the list of musicians for this production are Dave Prescott (Gladwin) and Dave Murphy (St. Helen).

The chorus includes: Kristi and Sandra Bak, Mary Cole, Anne Greenland, Sherry Parker, and Kevin White (West Branch); Dan Gaynor (Roscommon); Will and Laura Engemann (Clear Lake); Jackie Champe (Horseshoe Lake); Barb Murphy and Michele Prudo (St. Helen); and Lisa Lazzaro (Prudenville).

Performances will be held in Kirtland's Auditorium on November 13, 14, 20 and 21 at 8:00 p.m. Tickets are on sale for $2.00 (Adults), and $1.00 (Sr. Citizens and students) and will soon be available at: Grayling Holiday Inn; Roscommon Hardware; Houghton Lake Chamber of Commerce; The Dressmakers, Mio; Gould Rexall Drugs, West Branch; and the Kirtland Bookstore.

To Hold Federal Procurement Conference

The Crawford and Otsego County Chambers of Commerce, in conjunction with the Private Industry Council (PIC) and the Northeast Michigan Manpower office will be sponsoring a 1/2 day Federal Procurement conference on Thursday, November 12, 1981. The place of the conference will be announced at a later date.

Based on the fact that two (2) contractors in our area have bids pending and one (1) contractor has an awarded contract, we would like to see more people involved in Defense Contracting. The seminar will take you through the steps to get your company on bidder's lists, provide information on contacting buyers, give you lists of companies for subcontracting purposes and provide information on the services available through the Northeast Michigan Manpower Consortium.

Please contact Duanne Swift at (517) 348-2921, Nancy Morgridge at (517) 732-4000 or Sally Rushton at (517) 733-8548 by November 6, 1981 if you are interested in learning more about Federal Contracting.

Local Doctor Named Diplomat of ABFP

KANSAS CITY, MO.—Dr. Charles Gosling of Grayling, has been named a diplomate of the American Board of Family Practice (ABFP) as a result of passing a certification examination offered by the ABFP. He is now certified in the medical specialty of family practice.

The intensive 2-day written examination is designed to prove the candidate's ability in the areas of internal medicine, surgery, obstetrics, gynecology, pediatrics, psychiatry and community medicine.

To qualify for the examination a physician must have successfully completed three years of residency training in family practice. There are some 385 such training programs in teaching hospitals and university medical centers across the United States.

ABFP diplomates also must continue to show proof of competence in the field of comprehensive continuing care of the family by being recertified every six years.

The latest group of diplomates brings the total number to more than 26,000. Most are members of the Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. The Academy was the first national M.D. group to require members to take continuing medical study, and was chiefly responsible for securing specialty status for family practice.

FIVE GENERATIONS—(seated) Edna Feldhauser, Marguerite Stark holding Scott Rosseau, (standing) Cammie Rosseau and Linda Marashall.

VISIT FIRE STATION—Mrs. Larson's first grade classroom went to the Fire Station on October 7, 1981, at 10:00 a.m. They saw a movie about Smokey the Bear. They saw the inside of the fire engine and the Jaws. They each got a fire hat and a little book that showed how to get out of fires. They saw the inside of an ambulance too! They showed them the siren, how they turn it on, and the water hose. They made puppets of Smokey the Bear. They all got a comic book and a ruler and a folder and a Smokey the Bear coloring page. The names were Keith Arnold, Jason Brigham, Michele Cole, Mary Cole, Nicole DeVriendt, Mary Elliott, Jessica Felver, Levon Gilman, Melissa Halstead, Kelly Harrison, Tammy Hatfield, Dawn Hentkowski, Stephanie Hess, Tracy Howe, Loretta Wilfong, Gerry Weaver, Michael Vollmer, Scott Ketchum, Joline Kreitner, Eric LaForest, Tracy Lichtyler, Sam Mack, Neal Mathews, Teddy Marsack, Jason McClanahan, Jason Messenheimer, Sarah Neal, Jody Pratt, Keith Priebe, Gail Randall, Tammy Robinson and Robert Smoke. The instructors were Mr. Golnick and Mrs. Brooks. Written by Dusty Smith and Lori Gust, fifth grade.

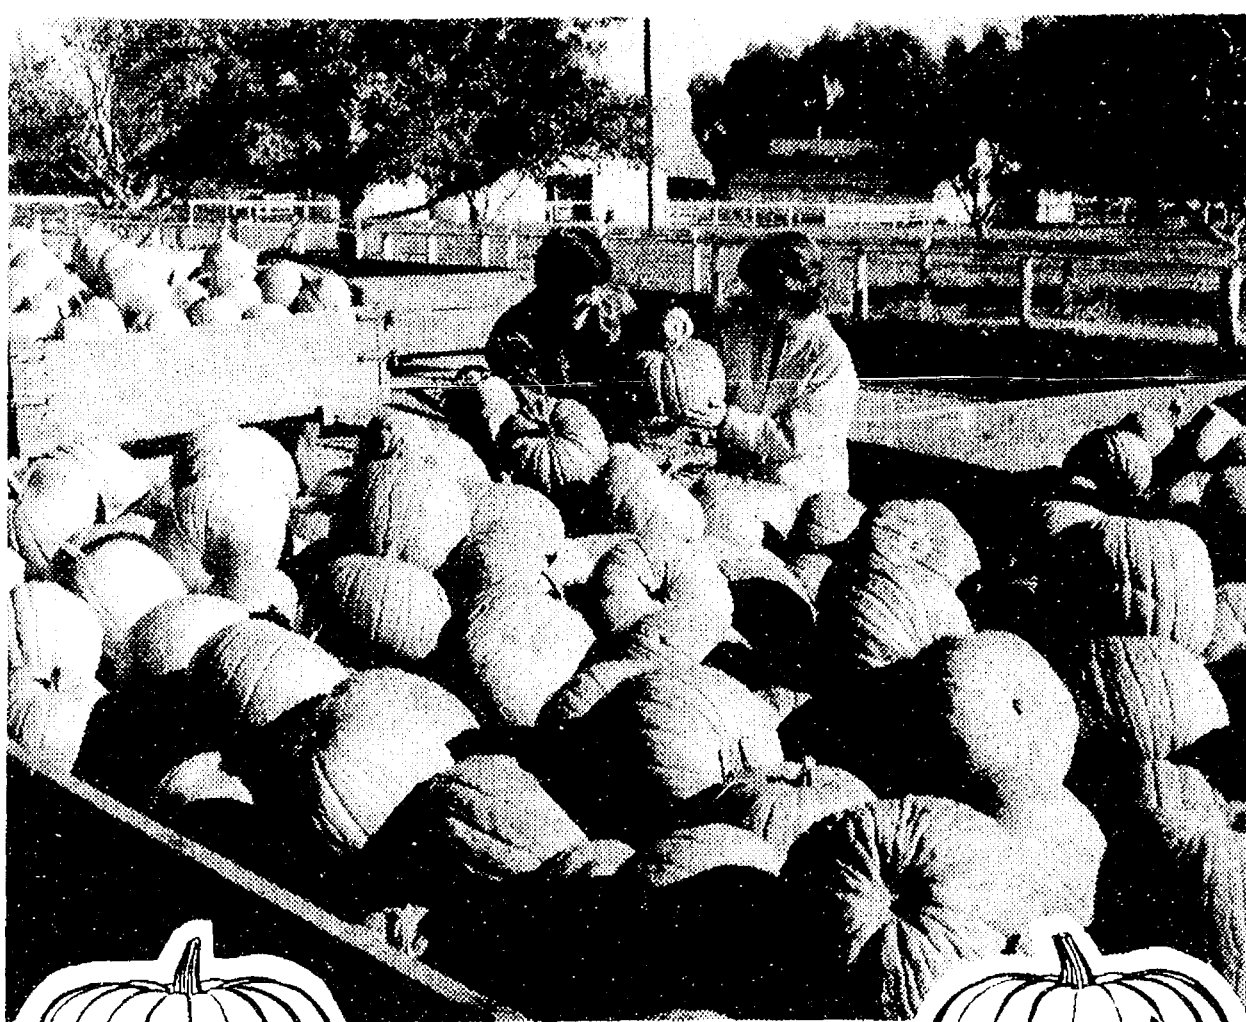

CALIFORNIA PINE CONE—Jason Clark from Mrs. Akers' fourth grade brought in a pine cone from California. His family went to visit their grandparents. On the way back to Grayling they saw some pine cones. They thought they were very huge. The pine cones are about twelve inches tall. Jason says they found them around San Diego. Jason brought it in on Monday, October 19, 1981. When Mrs. Akers said they had a pine cone for me to write about, I thought, "a pine cone, big deal." And then I saw it, it was a big deal, here's a picture of it. Written by Janet Petrosky, fifth grade.

While raising three children, I discovered that pumpkins can have character. Using the same tools and a minimum of skill, I turned out jack-o-lanterns smiling and lovable . . . and jack-o-lanterns leering and grotesque.

All parents know that children have character. But how that character develops is not simply a product of parental know-how.

In the religious education our churches provide, a child finds the faith that will mightily mold his character. In the worship and service activities of their church, parents express their own religious belief and make it part of family life.

Truly, God carves character.

Closing Up The Summer Cottage

By Gail Edwards, Ext. Home Economist

Closing up your summer cottage for the winter? Here are some tips from Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service housing specialists:

Shut off the water systems by turning off the pump or shutting off the valve (if on city water). Drain the pressure tank.

Open all faucets. Break a union close to the valve so water will drain out clear to the shut-off valve.

Drain pump and let run a couple of seconds to be sure all water is out of the lines from the pump.

Flush toilets and dip all water out of flush tank.

Be sure to drain flexible spray hoses in showers and sinks.

Drain water softeners so water will drain back from soft water pipes and controls. A brine tank will probably not freeze.

Drain water heaters.

For sewerage systems: Force as much water as possible out of traps. (Use a plunger.)

Add antifreeze to each trap so you have at least a 50 percent solution of ethylene glycol and water. Sometimes fuel oil can be substituted for antifreeze.

Check for traps in these locations: kitchen sinks, bathroom sinks, tub and/or shower drains, toilets, wash-tubs, floor drains and sump pump.

General tips: Remove food or medicine containers that contain liquid (and might freeze) from shelves.

Put other food in large metal container to protect it from ice or other rodents.

Remove or hide articles that can be sold and converted to cash such as guns, radios, TV sets, tools, etc.

Attend 2 Day Seminar

Delegates from the Grayling congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses have just returned home from a two-day Christian seminar sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York. The two-day convention was held Saturday and Sunday in Holt, Michigan at the Assembly Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses.

E.L. Manfredi from Brooklyn, New York was the featured speaker and addressed over 1400 delegates on the subject, "Deliverance in a Time of Anguish." Mr. Manfredi pointed out that world leaders today are losing their optimistic view of the future. Most now have their own places of refuge in case of war. Manfredi went on to say that "Christians today can put their complete trust in their creator, Jehovah God, not man, will prove to be the one who has the answers for mankind's deliverance in a time of anguish."

The sessions of instruction were in the form of demonstrations, discussions, experiences and lectures. The highlight of the seminar was the public baptism of 21 newly dedicated witnesses of Jehovah God.

Diabetic Clinic at Mercy Hospital Nov. 4-5

Free testing to help detect diabetes will be offered at Mercy Hospital, Grayling November 4 and 5 in the Extended Care Facility Dining Room from 1 to 3 p.m. Diabetes is a major cause of heart attack, kidney failure, blindness and death.

The tests are being conducted in conjunction with the Michigan Affiliate of the American Diabetes Association. The association estimates that there are over 200,000 people in Michigan who have diabetes and don't know it. The test is not designed for known diabetics.

People who run a high risk of developing diabetes include those who are over forty, overweight and related to diabetics. When symptoms of diabetes occur, they often include frequent urination, abnormal thirst, unusual hunger, rapid weight loss, itching, fatigue, blurred vision and slow healing of cuts and scratches.

The test involves a blood sample drawn by a technician from the hospital. The blood will be tested for its sugar content and the results sent to the American Diabetes Association in Detroit. Persons whose test results show the possibility of diabetes will be notified by the association and urged to see their physician as soon as possible.

Last year, when diabetes testing was conducted at the hospital, 11 positive screenings were obtained from 142 tested. Four of the 11 were later diagnosed as diabetic.

For best results, a meal high in carbohydrates with large amounts of starches and sugars should be eaten two hours before the test. A person planning to take the test after lunch could have soup, a sandwich, cake or pie, and a glass of milk. The meal should be eaten within a 15-minute time period and nothing else except water should be taken before the test.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank Dr. Henig and Dr. Langdon for all the care during my stay in the hospital. Also all the nurses on Main 2, they were wonderful, Pastor Bond for his prayers and visits along with my family and friends for their gifts, cards and prayers.

God Bless All of You,

Fashion Show
A Success

From the top of their beautifully coiffed heads to the tip of their gowns sixty two models gave proof that you don't have to go out of Grayling to be well dressed for any occasion.

St. Mary's Family Center was the splendid setting for the American Business Women's annual scholarship benefit fashion show. The audience enjoyed a large variety of cookies and refreshments donated by the membership.

A special thanks to the merchants for making this possible and to those individuals who graciously gave of their time to make the show a success. Please know you are appreciated.

For Safety, Install Wood Stoves Properly

By Gail Edwards
Extension Home Economist

If you want to heat your home with wood, make your life easier and safer by following recommended procedures for installing a wood stove.

Proper installation of wood-burning stoves is an absolute safety "must". Henry A. Huber, professor and Extension specialist in the Michigan State Department of Forestry, recommends before installing any wood heating system checking with a building inspector and/or your local fire department to get the latest information on what you must do to meet the building code requirements in your area. Following the manufacturer's instructions for installation will also help insure that your fueled wood heating system is as safe as possible.

Protecting all combustible surfaces against fire is the major aim of proper stove installation procedures. Follow these suggestions:

To protect floors, mount the wood-burning stove on metal/asbestos combination board, slate, brick or marble cut to extend 12 inches beyond the stove on three sides and 18 inches beyond the loading side. The stove legs should be at least four inches long for adequate air space between the protected floor and the stove.

To protect walls, use metal/asbestos combination board, brick, stone or other masonry material. One-inch fireproof spacers should be installed between the wall and the protective surface so that air can circulate freely between them.

When installing a radiating stove, make sure there is at least 36 inches' clearance between the stove and any unprotected surfaces, including walls, floors and furniture. When installing a circulating model, allow 12 inches' clearance between the stove and combustible materials. There should be 18 inches between combustible surfaces and stovepipe connectors.

The chimney should extend three feet above the highest point where it passes through the roof or at least two feet above any part of the building within 10 feet of the chimney top.

After installing your wood-burning stove, it is a good idea to have your local building inspector inspect and approve in writing the installation job before you light the first fire. You might also ask your insurance company representative for written approval. Failure to obtain a permit could bring a fine or insurance cancellation.

Measles Vaccine

Medical researchers believe a certain measles vaccine to be safe for under-nourished children, and plan to test whether they can be inoculated as early as six months.
